FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SUBJECT: "HOPE OF THE CITIES"

CONVENT STATION, NEW JERSEY--"Hope of the Cities: Remedies to Urban Unrest" is the theme of a study day sponsored by the World Affairs Association of the College of Saint Elizabeth on Saturday, March 30. Assisted by Morton Rogers, Director of Program Planning of the Human Resources Administration; Arthur Abba Goldberg, New Jersey Deputy Attorney General, Department of Community Affairs; Gordon Lynch, National Field Director for N.E.G.R.O.; Timothy Still, United Community Corporation President; and Ron VanderSchoaf and Dave Parker of S.E.N.T., the community action training program, the participating students and local citizens will delve into possible cures for the ills that plague our cities. It is hoped that a renewed optimism will result from the investigation of things that are being done and can be done. The program will also seek to give the participants ideas for personal involvement. The day-long study begins at 9:00 A.M. in Saint Joseph Hall of the College of Saint Elizabeth. Registration fee is $1.50. Any interested person is welcome.
